

COPYRIGHT DISCLAIMER

All the contents of the website www.ambientalia.it (hereinafter, the "Website") are the exclusive and confidential property of the owner and/or his/her assignees and/or third parties where indicated, and are protected by national and international agreements in force concerning the protection of Intellectual and/or Industrial Property rights.

The term "Website" refers to any content or technical-IT element of the Website itself, including, by way of example and not limited to, the software that allows its operation and the relative algorithms, electronic databases, texts, photographs, animations, audio and video files regardless of format, reproductions of trademarks, logos, etc., the adopted technical solutions, the graphic design, the framework and any other aspect already executed or to be executed.

The term "Intellectual and Industrial Property Rights" concerning the Website refers to the set of rights recognised and protected by the national and international regulations in force, including - by way of example and not limited to, in relation to all countries and without any expiry date - any rights deriving from patents (including the relative application filing rights), present or future copyrights, trademarks and/or service marks (whether registered or effectively used by the Owner), brands, trade names, companies, know-how, domain names, databases and all related applications.

The term "Materials" means any Website content in the form of - by way of example and not limited to - texts, images, graphics, files, software of any kind, audio materials, videos, virtual animations, multimedia and/or hypertext elements, regardless of their format, the media that contain them, the file extension (by way of example and not limited to: mp3, wav, jpg, mpeg, gif, doc, etc.), the size, the versions in use and the techniques used for their distribution and/or transmission.

The Materials published on the Website shall not be used without prior written authorisation from AMBIENTALIA and/or the Owner's assignees who expressly reserve the rights to all forms of reproduction and use and - where such authorisation is not unreasonably denied - such materials shall nevertheless:

- remain in their original format and, if reproduced, shall always bear the proprietary information or information relating to copyright or authors;
- not involve, for any reason or purpose, for-profit use;
- cite the source, author and/or owner of the rights to the Materials and the web address from which they were taken;

The use, in any form or for any reason, of Materials represented by legal texts (e.g.: informative notes, contractual conditions, etc.) published on the Website is strictly prohibited. Any violation shall be prosecuted according to law. Inclusion of materials published on the Website in collections and/or anthologies - including digital ones - requires the written authorization of AMBIENTALIA.

For any clarification regarding use of the Materials on the Website and/or Intellectual and Industrial Property Rights, please contact AMBIENTALIA at segreteria@ambientalia.it.
